Shaping the Future of Shipping

Shipboard Response to Stowaways and Distressed People in Small Boats

2025–26 Edition

A brand new guide from Witherbys and the International
Chamber of Shipping

The primary aim of this book is to advise seafarers in general, and the officers and crew of merchant ships in particular, how best to deal with people encountered at sea as stowaways, distressed people in small boats (including migrants and refugees) and the victims of trafficking. Current trends and regions of higher risk are identified, with reference to the latest industry guidance and regulatory framework.
